Hey Kristi,

Sounds good, is there any chance we could meet later in the day though?

Best,
Mark

Hi Mark,

We need to meet to check in about this incident. I see from your schedule that you are free tomorrow at 9am. I would like to speak briefly with you at that time. My office is located in Carson Hall, in the same suite as the Undergraduate Deans and OPAL.

Best,
Kristi

Hi Mark,

I completely understand. However, I have an obligation to talk with you just to get a little more information. I'm not trying to jam up your day, I just want to make sure we understand what happened. Do you have any time this afternoon or Monday?

Best,
Kristi

Hey Kristi,

I already spoke with the officers about this and would prefer to not spend more time on this matter if that is ok. I hadn't spoken the with people in question for a month, and was told that if they contacted me or my family it would be considered harassment. They then waited a month (presumably until I had left home for school) and decided to contact my parents a couple days ago. The only contact I had with them was to communicate they were in fact harassing me, and to see if I could get them to agree to stop contacting my family to say bad things about me before I filed a harassment complaint.

If you know them and the situation, this is very clearly just a final "fuck you" and not a safety concern. Again, I only contacted them after they contacted my parents after having been told it would be illegal to do so, and because I wanted to ensure they weren't willing to just promise me and my family would not have to hear from them again before I filed some sort of legal complaint. I've been told the only way I can ensure they don't contact me again now is by filing a harassment suit. I'm not sure if I will yet, but I think I'd prefer to just continue not thinking about this like I was until they contacted my family again while I'm in school.

Sincerely,
Mark Anderson
